

What are your loved ones doing on the 'other' side?

By Melissa Jagst-Frei, with Karen Larré

During my June seminar, Life after Death, numerous spirits guides came through and painted a picture about what happens to our loved ones; as they leave their bodies, after they complete their transition, and a little about how they spend their time after that. Some attendees shared with me afterward that they found the information intriguing and most of the questions that were lingering were about how our loves ones spend their time after they adjust to their transition. The guides touched on this a little, saying that transitioned loved ones go on to participate in something that we would call “work” or a “job.” (So work doesn’t end when we leave here, it just isn’t necessary for use with a monetary system anymore.) The guides explained that there are many areas of service on the ‘other’ side. Jobs ranged from helping people (including children) cross over, meeting people who have tragically left the earth and helping them adjust, and so many more...all the way through helping spirits come back into physical form in our world.

Recently, a lady (let’s call her Carol – not her real name) came to see me for a reading. Carol’s sister had learned she had stage three cancer 3 months prior and then tragically passed away. As this woman came through to me, she shared specifics about her passing and this gave the lady validation that it was in fact her sister that was coming through. Carol’s sister had been an elementary school teacher. She had a passion for working with and being around children. The level of patience that this woman had for children was like nothing her sister had ever seen. The sad thing for her sister was that she and her husband had tried and tried to have children but were never successful. Finally, she went to the doctor and they were told she would never be able to have children. This saddened her so, because her greatest joy in life was being surrounded by children. She finally came to terms with the fact that she was unable to have children and it was only shortly after that verdict, that she found out about the cancer and then passed.

Carol was filled with sadness and didn’t understand why these particular circumstances had happened to her sister. She had been such a loving, giving, incredible person. Why, why? During the reading her sister made a grand entrance with tons of small children around her! Her job on the ‘other’ side was to help children cross over. It had been her time to pass from the earth and do the work she was passionate about – just in a different place. It wasn’t meant to be fulfilled here. After that session, Carol was able to find closure, knowing her sister was doing what she loved. She now understood why she had to leave so soon. Here’s what she wrote afterward.

Medium Melissa, Thank you so much for taking the time to help me find peace with my sister. I blamed everyone – even GOD for her passing so soon. You and my sister helped me to understand more clearly what happened and why! Thank you again. I feel at peace.
